

SOLAR MEDIA

6th December 2023

Dear Mr. Howitt,

It is with great enthusiasm that I extend to you an invitation to join the Advisory Board for the upcoming Green Hydrogen UK Summit, scheduled for Tuesday, 12th December 2024. Your extensive expertise and influential contributions in the field of energy transition, particularly in the realms of strategy, technology, and policy, make you an invaluable addition to our team.

As a respected United Nations (UNECE) expert in energy transition strategy, technologies, economics, regulation, and politics, your insights are highly sought after. Your role as a regular consultee to the British energy ministry, National Grid, the Renewable Energy Association, the International Energy Agency, and others, is testament to your depth of knowledge and influence in the energy sector.

In addition, your experience as a Non-Executive Director, advisor, and coach, combined with your innovative approaches in strategies, technologies, products, services, and designs, align perfectly with the goals of our summit. We are particularly interested in how your expertise can contribute to discussions.

The Green Hydrogen UK Summit aims to be a groundbreaking event, focusing on the latest developments, strategies, and technologies in the green hydrogen sector. As a member of our Advisory Board, your role would involve guiding the summit's agenda, contributing to the selection of speakers and topics, and providing strategic advice to ensure the event's success.

The first meeting of the Advisory Board is scheduled for Tuesday, 12th December 2024, and we sincerely hope you will be able to join us. Your participation would greatly enrich the discussions and outcomes of this pivotal event. Thank you for considering this invitation. We are excited about the potential of your contribution and look forward to the possibility of working together.

Yours sincerely,

La'Marisa Barclay

Conference Producer

Solar Media Ltd.